SUMMER 2012 MASTERPIECE

31 March to 31 August 2012

The Quarrel of Oberon and Titania by Sir Joseph Noel Paton

Part of the Duff House Masterpiece Series from the National Gallery of Scotland, Edinburgh. FREE ENTRY

This fantastical work is an imaginative interpretation of an incident in Shakespeare's play 'A Midsummer Night's Dream'. Oberon and Titania, king and queen of the fairies, quarrel over the possession of a changeling (a human child carried off to the fairy realm and replaced by a fairy child). In 1850 the painting captivated Lewis Carroll (the author of 'Alice in Wonderland') who counted 165 fairies.

MIDSUMMER MURDER MYSTERY

Dastardly Deeds at Duff House!

Thursday 21 June 2012

Doors Open 7.15pm; Performance Begins 7.45pm; Carriages 9.30pm

The Earl, the Artist and the Model met in Paris in 1846. They had no idea they were starting a chain of events that would catch up with them in the north of Scotland twenty years later. A series of indiscreet revelations shatter the thin veneer of respectability as old emotions, suspicions and recriminations explode. Murder is the only way out.
